MATRIMONIAL.

Robert A. McKay and Miss Florence Arnold were married at Perryville Wednesday.

John White, aged 79, and Mrs. Annie Ball, 71, eloped from Greenup to the World's Fair and were married.

A surprise in social circles was caused here when it was learned that Dr. W. D. Powell, of this place, and Miss Virginia Wise, of Leesburg, Va., would be married next Saturday, says a Harrodsburg dispatch. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride in Leesburg.

Mr. Ernest Reichenbach, of Kallispell, Montana, and Mrs. Lucy Mobley, of the Mt. Salem section, were joined in wedlock's holy bonds by Rev. J. W. Hagin, at that gentleman's home Tuesday afternoon. They were sweethearts before Mrs. Mobley was married but their love affair was broken into by his removal West. Mrs. Mobley, then Miss Coffey, met Mr. Terry Mobley and after a courtship of some time married him. He died some 18 months ago and a few months since a correspondence between Mrs. Mobley and Mr. Reichenbach began. The old love was quickly kindled and on his arrival from his Western home here Tuesday he was married to his sweetheart of years ago. The bride is a strikingly handsome young woman of 23 years and her heart and hand have been sought by numerous beaux. The groom is a fine business man of good morals and has shown his good judgment in the choosing of his helpmeet.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Hyomei Only Guaranteed Cure for This Common and Disagreeable Disease.

Hyomei cures catarrh by the simple method of breathing it into the air passages and lungs. It kills the germs of catarrhal poison, heals and soothes the irritated mucous membrane and effectually drives this disease from the system.

If you have any of the following symptoms, catarrhal germs are at work somewhere in the mucous membrane of the throat, bronchial tubes or tissues of the lungs.

Offensive breath, dryness of the nose, pain across the eyes, pain in back of the head, pain in front of the head, tendency to take cold, burning pain in the throat, hawking to clear the throat, pain in the chest, a cough, stitch in side, losing of flesh, variable appetite, low spirited at times, raising of frothy mucus, expectorating yellow matter, difficulty in breathing, frequent sneezing, huskiness of voice, discharge from the nose, stoppage of the nose at night, aching of the body, droopings in the throat, mouth open while sleeping, tickling back of the palate, formation of crusts in the nose, dryness of the throat in the morning, loss of strength, spasms of coughing, cough short and hacking, cough worse nights and mornings, loss in vital force, a feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest.

Hyomei will destroy activity of all catarrhal germs in the respiratory organs and in a few weeks the cure will be complete.

This is a strong statement, but Penny emphasizes it by agreeing to refund your money if Hyomei does not cure.

HUBBLE.

Madam Rumor predicts another wedding.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church closed Sunday evening with 13 additions and a general awakening of the members.

Dr. Cleora Eubanks and wife have returned to their home at Paducah, after a visit with the family of J. W. Eubanks. Lee Rankin, Dave Rankin, Leslie Sloan and Charlie Rankin are attending the Somerset fair. Miss Levisa Harris is with relatives in Stanford. Misses Roberta Davis and Annie Tate, of Mt. Vernon, have been guests of Miss Fionnie Hammond. L. G. Hubble has returned from St. Louis. Mrs. Lou Bohon, of Steubenville, is with her mother, Mrs. Nancy Sloan. Mr. Sidney Dunbar is visiting his father in Russell county.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett, of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend, Mr. C. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved and when I had taken the third dose was entirely cured. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for putting this great remedy in the hands of mankind." For sale by all Druggists.

John S. Power, former County Judge of Fleming county, is dead.

Hon. Fontaine Fox Bobbitt's Tribute to his Dead Sister.

CRAB ORCHARD, KY., Aug. 30th.—On the eve of the sacred Sabbath day, Aug. 23rd, the sanctified soul of Kate McAlester took its flight from the scenes of earth to its eternal home in heaven. Born in Pulaski away back in 1823, when the 19th century was young, she, by her strength of years lived four score years and one. She lived the life of as good and noble a christian woman as ever the sun shown upon! Always blessed with ample earthly store, she and her husband, the late James McAllister, bestowed bountifully to the preachers, the poor and to every charitable object that appealed to them for aid, always remembering the poor Confederate soldier starving in Northern prisons in a land of plenty.

Married before I was born, I was often at their hospitable home, which for near three quarters of a century was the Mecca to which the poor and hungry made their daily pilgrimage for bread, and never did the meal sack or hand of want go back unfilled. Sal Bagley, Neil Dugger, Polly Hortenbury were the beneficiaries that regaled from their crib, smoke house and kitchen their daily supply for themselves and families. With a copious stream of charity flowing from their granary, their supply never gave out. They gave bountifully for a long lifetime and neither ever knew what it was to want. They gave and Providence blessed and gave more abundantly, and up to the day of her death many, both black and white, blessed the coming of her feet. Blessed with no children herself that all her kinsfolk might call her mother. The anguish of my heart was no greater when the sainted spirit of my own darling mother took its flight to heaven. 'Tis a melancholy pleasure to know that we shall have the sweet, sad privilege of lying down in the grave with our dear departed friends, for when:

True hearts lie withered,
And fond ones have flown,
Oh! Who could inhabit
This bleak world alone?

We would give the wealth of all the Indies to have her back only a few more years. Oh! who will minister to our dying wants now, dear sister has gone? My dear brother could with the greatest courage, bid farewell to the scenes of earth because she was by his dying couch. My dear, darling sister I can never forget you, nor never will my aching heart cease to bleed for you. I loved you with the deep and abiding affection that I did my mother. I would deem my heart recreant to a loyal duty could even time mellow my grief to a mere sad regret. I have never seen more genuine grief at a funeral or burial in all my life. Could tears have recalled you from the further shore, your friends would have wept till no more tears could well up from our breaking hearts. You will now never know how your friends loved you. Capt. Thomas S. Hays, of the Confederate army, and Samuel E. Hays, of the Federal army, were her brothers. James E. Bobbitt, Lizzie P. James, Mrs. M. V. Sigler and the writer were half brothers and sisters to the dear departed one, but we never knew any difference in the half and the whole blood. How sad and lonely will dear old Crab Orchard be now that sister Kate is gone! We never knew a time when she was not there.

She will never come back to us again but we can follow; and may we so live that we may go the same way and the same road that she did—the road that leads to the beautiful gate of pearls. Let us cease to bow at earthly shrines of ambition, of wealth and of fame. Should we pass our whole lives in the accumulation of wealth, the acquisition of knowledge, or in pursuit of fame, even in the event of our success, what is our reward? At best a name! Praise when the ear hath grown too dull to hear, gold when the senses which it should please are dead, wreathes when the brow which they cover has grown gray. Life is but a spool with 70 yards of the thread of life wound upon it. Every year one yard is unwound and when the naked spool is reached all the gold of Ophir can not put another inch of thread on that naked spool.

The greatest sovereign that ever adorned the English throne, Queen Elizabeth, with her dying breath exclaimed: "My whole kingdom for one minute more of life!" But cruel death was inexorable and the heart breaking request of Royalty was not granted. I knew a friend worth half a million to cry aloud to be spared, to be good to the poor by helping them with his means, but alas, the sands of the hour-glass had all run out.

Farewell dear sister, farewell for awhile. Though we shall soon meet again if kind Providence smiles. You will live forever in affection's soundless well.

Nor wreck, nor change, nor winter's blight
Nor time's remorseless doom
Can dim one ray of holy light
That gladdens your glorious tomb.

R. Day, who was State treasurer under the brief Taylor Administration in Kentucky.

Only Did His Duty as He Saw it.

"I deem it my duty to add a word of praise for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says J. Wiley Park, the well-known merchant and postmaster at Wiley, Ky. "I have been selling it for three or four years, and it gives complete satisfaction. Several of my customers tell me they would not do without it for anything. Very often, to my knowledge, one single dose has cured a severe attack of diarrhoea, and I positively know that it will cure the flux (dysentery). You are at liberty to use this testimonial as you please." Sold by all Druggists.

J. L. Anderson narrowly escaped losing his residence by fire Sunday morning. The fire, which originated from a defective flue, was soon extinguished.

We hear much complaint of deprecations committed by some of the light flogged gentry. If all complaints are well founded it is evident that somebody is feasting on the fat of the land and living like unto a king.

Trial bottles free at Penny's Drug Store.

A sum approximating $50,000,000 is sent from the United States in small sums each year to assist those left behind in the Old World, or to enable them to emigrate. Thanking my patrons once more, I am, very truly, E. B. Denham.

ABOUT 10 weeks have past since we dissolved partnership. Some of our customers responded very readily to our request for settlement and others are still behind. We think with the prevailing prices on wheat, oats, corn, &c., you could settle your account, so we kindly ask your prompt attention to this, as a settlement of our partnership is necessary to each of us in our business. Higgins & McKinney.

IN a personal letter from Mr. J. E. Carson, formerly of Crab Orchard, but now a big ranchman with headquarters at Bliss, O. T., he says: "We are having lots of rain; too much for the wheat threshing. I have been threshing since the 1st day of July, every day that we could get dry enough and still have 300 acres to thresh. Wheat is damaged to a great extent but the price goes up, so we do not lose very much. We had a splendid crop. Have a very heavy corn crop—mine has been estimated as high as 80 bushels per acre. I still like Oklahoma and suppose I am here to stay. I will try and write you something for publication some time if you think it would be of interest to your patrons. Say, I don't like Parker and am glad we have no vote. My kindest regards to all my friends." We are sorry our old friend does not like democracy's splendid standard bearer but we'll wager if he had 1,000 votes they would all go under the rooster.

STEPHENS.—Mrs. Annie Stephens, widow of Mr. J. T. Stephens, died near Mt. Vernon Wednesday of consumption of the bowels and was buried at Mt. Vernon yesterday afternoon. She was 59 years old and was a most excellent woman.

Miss Helen Madara, of Lexington, Ky., will fill the vacancy caused by Mrs. Cochran's resignation. The school will be open Sept. 12 with Prof. John L. Bosley in charge. Children living outside the district will be charged the following rates of tuition for the entire school year, viz: 1, 2, 3 grades, $18; 4, 5, 6, 7 grades, $24; 8th grade and high school, $30.

To Our Patrons!

After assuming the office of manager of the Stanford Water, Light & Ice Co., I find a great many leaky yard hydrants that are proving a great expense to the company in the waste of water and I respectfully urge all patrons whose hydrants are out of gear to repair same at once, or I will be compelled to cut the water off until the hydrant is repaired. All patrons who have sprinkling privileges are earnestly requested to use the water only in front of their property (and not outsiders) all that is absolutely necessary, but the water contracted for with the Company is not for the purpose of making mud-holes and suchlike. If any person is found violating these rules, I will be forced to cut the water off.

Your attention is invited to some of the Stanford Water, Light & Ice Co.'s rules and regulations as follows: All water and light rents must be paid quarterly, in advance, on the 1st day of January, April, July and October. For willful or unreasonable waste of water, the supply of water will be stopped. No one will be allowed to supply water to other families. All persons are required to keep stop cocks and private hydrants in good repair and protected from frost and prevent any unnecessary waste of water. The Company agrees to furnish water for a certain specified use for a certain sum, persons using water for any other purpose than that stated in receipt, will be required to pay full price for water furnished. Free access to all pipes and fixtures must be had for examination by the Manager of Company. For the violation of any of the above rules or non-payment of rent, the company reserves the right to turn off the water without notice.

An Ordinance passed by the City Council makes it a fine of five dollars to hitch a horse or other animal to any fire plug or hydrant.

All persons knowing themselves indebted to the Stanford Water, Light & Ice Co. to July 1, 1904, for water and lights, are requested to liquidate their account at once, as the Company needs the money. I will be at Penny's Drug Store every day between 9 and 10 o'clock A. M. to receive your water and light rent.
